

Rapid

cost effective security smoke systems

Rapid ELM

Rapid HP

Rapid Protection systems are a new addition to the Smoke Screen range of security smoke generators.

As demand for security smoke increases, so does the scope for different applications.

Traditionally, security smoke has been expensive and this has limited its use, especially in small business and domestic applications.

Rapid Protection is the result of a joint venture between Concept and a major manufacturer in the Far East. The ELM and HP models combine Concept's depth of knowledge with the low cost, volume manufacture found in the Far East.

Both models follow the normal format for security smoke systems. They incorporate provisions for 'Set' and 'Trigger' inputs, a 'Hold-off', and outputs for both 'Ready' and 'Low Fluid' status.

Both models are robust and compact; both are designed to ensure simple and problem free installation and operation.

The ELM or 'Entry Level Machine' produces approximately 300 cubic metres of smoke per minute, and is suitable for all small offices, shops storerooms etc.

The HP or 'High Performance' model produces approximately 700 cubic metres of smoke, and is suitable for almost all security smoke applications.

In addition to the basic features found on the ELM, the HP has advanced electronics and an on-board event log.
